This vibrantly fresh wine is bursting with juicy exotic fruit. White currants, white peaches and lemons pair perfectly with freshly sliced passion fruit, mango and guava. On the palate, the Sauvignon Blanc comes across as minerally and lively. A hint of salt and a chalky texture on the finish provide immense drinkability.

So much exoticism should be reflected in the food, too. A glass noodle salad with coriander greens and shrimp accompanies this wine just as well as Vietnamese spring rolls or fried rice noodles with tofu and fresh herbs.
