This wine's invigorating bouquet is clearly of yellow fruit. Aromas of pears, yellow plums and sage appear. There are also flinty and chalky notes. Vinified to be dry and moderate in acidity, it tastes spicy. It has a fine-grained mouthfeel with a salty finish. At 12% vol. it is a Silvaner as you would want it to be: With structure but without weight.

Refined vegetarian dishes like marinated red beetroot with seitan doughnuts, classics like white asparagus with melted butter, but also with fried fish dishes with potato, cucumber and dill.
